POST-OFFICE TO ISSUE

Shown.

Five new denominations of ordinary postage stamps will soon be placed on sale at the Richmond post-office. Post-master Hay T. Thornton was notified yesterday by the Post-office Department that it was preparing to Issue the new stamps, but that no requisition will be received for them alone. They must be included in the regular order for stock. The new stamps are of the same shape and size as the ordinary stamps, and the denominations are: 7 cent. binck; 9 cent. pink; 12 cent. maroon; 20 cent. light bine, and, 30 cent. vermillion. The 2, 12, 20 and 20 cent stamps bear the head of Franklin in profile from Houdon's bust, looking to the left. These four denominations have the same border design as the current 8 cent to $1 stamps. The 7 cent stamp bears the head of Washington in profile, from Houdon's bust, looking to the left. The border design is similar to that of the first six denominations of the current series. Postmasters have received instructions to take inventories of stock on hand, and to make requisitions for all supplies needed, but not to exceed the number of stamps that can be adequately protected. They are expected to get from three to six months supply at a time, and in this manner avoid frequent requisitions.

All parcels presented for insurance or for collection on delivery, must in the future bear the special indorsement "Fragile," "Perishable," and "Eggs," according to the nature of the contents.
